Coconut Grove, FL – July 16, 2014 – It was all about combining fashion and philanthropy on Wednesday evening as Park Grove, the final and most luxurious residential towers planned for Coconut Grove by Terra Group and The Related Group, hosted Fashionably Conscious' first Collection Party of 2014. Now in its seventh year, Fashionably Conscious aims to collect designer items from Miami's top philanthropists and fashionable VIPs for the charity's much-awaited September sale. Designer items, including Chanel, Prada, Valentino, Dolce & Gabbana, and more were accumulated during the lavish VIP cocktail party in preparation for the haute sale benefitting Coconut Grove Cares and The Barnyard, a program that offers vital after school services to 250 children in the West Grove Community. Socialites and hosts of the night, Rima Otrakji and Christina Martin, gathered all the who's who of local fashionistas and VIPs, including Rene Ruiz, Katharine Rubino and Tony and Ximena Cho.
